

TRINITY INTERNATIONAL UNIVERSITY
TRINITY COLLEGE – EXCEL
2008-09 Academic Year Calendar

Fall 2008 Term

July 1, 2008 through December 31, 2008

Spring 2009 Term

January 1, 2009 through June 30, 2009

Any course beginning in one of the above date periods will be considered to be within the designated term. An example of this would be a student signing up for three courses: one course begins in November 2008, while the other two begin in January 2009 and February 2009 respectively. The first course in November 2008 is considered to be within the Fall 2008 term while the last two courses are in the Spring 2009 term. The actual start of a cohort or core group for any major may begin at any time within the year. The University's EXCEL program does not have traditional start and end dates but it does gain a student semester hour credit(s). Each course is offered generally in a lock-step format where one course at a time is usually taken with the next course starting within a week or two after the end date of the previous one.
