

Trinity Graduate School
2005-06 Catalog Addendum
October 21, 2005

Pp. 63-64: The Academic Probation and Dismissal has been modified.

After the second bullet point on p. 63, the policy should read as follows:

In such cases, the probationary status will be removed after successful academic performance in 12 hours of academic course work at Trinity. A student would be placed on academic probation at the conclusion of any semester in which that student's cumulative GPA falls below graduation requirements in the respective degree program. The student will remain on probation as long as the cumulative average remains below the required level. It is expected that, if on academic probation, all activities outside of regular studies would be curtailed until such time as the probationary status is removed.

The minimum cumulative GPA for all Trinity Graduate School MA degree programs and for Special Students is 3.0. Students whose cumulative GPA falls below 3.0 but remains above 2.3 after 12 hours of academic coursework will be placed on academic probation. Probationary status will be maintained until the cumulative GPA is raised to a 3.0 or above. The probationary period cannot exceed the six-year statute of limitations for the MA degree. Following completion of 12 hours of academic coursework, a student will be dismissed from Trinity Graduate School if the cumulative GPA falls below 2.3.

Students who have either been placed on academic probation or have been dismissed have the right to appeal to the TGS Academic Standing Appeals Committee. They must do so in writing within fourteen calendar days of the postmarked notice of their academic standing. Letters of appeal may be sent to the Office of the Dean of the College and Graduate School.

Following a student's academic dismissal from the university, the Admissions Committee will consider applications for readmission only if warranted by exceptional circumstances. Such applications are considered on a case-by-case basis. In order to be readmitted, a student will need to show satisfactory progress toward removal of the probationary status. After dismissal, a student must wait at least one semester before reapplying.

Trinity Graduate School
2005-06 Catalog Addendum
August 12, 2005

Additional information for p. 47 directly after the section that discusses Transcript fees:

Cancellation of Classes

The university reserves the right to cancel any class. If a class section is canceled and a replacement is not offered, students will receive a full refund of tuition paid for the canceled class. If the student registered for only one class, the registration fee and technology fee would also be refunded.

Additional information for p. 48 directly after "Financial Assistance" heading of the catalog follows:

For those who qualify, financial aid or assistance is a source of monetary support provided by various agencies (federal, state, and local governments, universities, community organizations, and private corporations or individuals) to help students meet the cost of attending college. It includes gift-aid (grants and scholarships) and self-help (loans and student employment). The following is an overview of available financial assistance based upon qualification.