

CAMPUS SECURITY POLICIES & CRIME STATISTICS

Trinity International University - Deerfield Campus

Publication Date: FALL 2005

Pursuant to the "Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Crime Statistics Act" previously known as the Federal Student Right To Know and Campus Security Act of 1990

General Statement

Trinity International University is committed to providing a safe and secure environment in which Trinity students, faculty and staff may learn, work and live and to enforce fully all state and federal laws and institutional policies and regulations to help ensure such an environment.

Maintaining a safe environment requires a collaborative effort within the campus community. All members of the University are required to abide by applicable state and federal laws and University policies and regulations. Visitors to the University also are required to comply with the law and University policies. Those hosting guests are responsible to ensure that their guest are familiar with campus policies and regulations.

Security Services is responsible for security and safety-related matters at the Deerfield campus of the university, including main campus buildings, residence halls, athletic facilities, parking lots and other campus property. Security Services also administers the university's parking program. Security officers are on duty twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week throughout the year and perform frequent foot and vehicular patrols. A full range of services is provided by Security Services.

Mission Statement

In order to provide and promote a safe and secure working and living environment for the entire Trinity International University community, Security Service works:

- To Serve - the needs of the TIU community in a manner which fosters positive relations.
- To Protect - the people and property within the TIU community through a highly visible and readily accessible presence.
- To Educate - the TIU community about security issues, personal safety measures and protective strategies.

By promoting the safety and security of students, faculty, staff and their families we support the motto of Trinity, "Forming Students to Transform the World through Christ".

Security Personnel

Security Services reports to the Vice President of Institutional Services. Most officers are or have been students of the University. The Director is a graduate of the College and the Divinity School and has over 15 years experience in the field of Security. The Director also sits on the university's safety committee, the university's parking task force and the undergraduate retention task force.

Authority to Detain

Security Officers have authority to detain (though not arrest) any person on campus if they have reasonable cause to believe the person may have been involved in a violation of TIU Policies or regulations, or state or federal law. Whenever appropriate, Bannockburn Police will be called to give assistance and aid in determining the proper response to an alleged offense. This response can range from disciplinary action by the university to arrest by the police, or both.

Working Relationship With Local Police Agencies

Trinity International University is located in Bannockburn, Illinois, a village with a reputation for safety and minimal crime. Although Security Officers do NOT have arrest authority, Trinity maintains a very close and positive working relationship with the Bannockburn Police Department, as well as county, state and federal authorities. Security Services serves as the university's primary contact with civil law enforcement and fire authorities.

Bannockburn police headquarters is located 1 ½ miles from campus, thereby facilitating both frequent patrols through campus and very quick response in case of emergency. The Fire Department has a station directly adjacent to campus property facilitating quick response by fire trucks and ambulances. These agencies respond promptly when the University requests their assistance. However, in all situations, Security Officers are expected to provide all possible assistance, provided assistance can be given without endangering the officer or others involved in the incident.

Daily Open Crime Log

Security Services maintains a daily log which depicts all crimes reported to the department, except when disclosure of such information is prohibited by law or such disclosure would jeopardize the confidentiality of the victim. (I.e, information may be withheld if release of such information would; (a) jeopardize an ongoing investigation or the safety of an individual; (b) cause a suspect to flee or evade detection; or (c) result in the destruction of evidence). Standard notations on the log include the nature, date, time and general location of each crime, and the disposition of the complaint, if known. For more information about the log, or the legal requirements pertaining to the same, contact the Director of Security, Monday - Friday between 9:00 am and 12:00 pm at 847-317-6400.

Access to and Security of Facilities

University facilities exist to support the institution's principal functions of teaching, research, and service. In addition to classrooms, laboratories and offices, the University has housing, food service, recreation and athletics, administrative support, maintenance and utility facilities.

The institution generally seeks to maintain open access to its facilities, but Trinity's campus is primarily intended for use by students, faculty, staff and their invited guests. Trinity maintains and regularly exercises the right to restrict access to its facilities. For example, access to laboratories, service, maintenance and utility facilities are restricted for safety and operational reasons, and access to student housing facilities is limited to residents and invited guests. In instances where a person, through his/her prior actions, has demonstrated an inability or unwillingness to conduct him or herself in accord with University policy or applicable law, that person can be "banned" from campus and denied access to all university property and facilities.

The university has placed a gate at the rear entrance to campus, located on Lakeside Drive. The gate at the rear entrance is closed at 11:00 pm and unlocked at 6:00 am each morning requiring each vehicle to pass by the Security Gate Office at the main entrance during this time.

All Residential areas of university dorms are to be kept locked 24 hours a day with the exception of open house hours which are Fridays 6:00 pm - 11:30 pm, Saturdays 3:00 pm - 11:30 pm and Sundays 3:00 pm - 11:30 pm. At all other times access to residential areas of these dorms requires a key. The Public lounge in the larger women's dorm (Johnson Hall) is locked down during late night hours. During extended breaks, the doors to all halls will be equipped with a lock different from the regular lock/key issued to resident student.

The university acts to maintain secure and safe facilities for use by its students, faculty, staff and invited guests through the work of Security Services, through its internal Key and lock system and key related policies, through the regular work of both the maintenance and custodial personnel, through the assigned responsibilities of personnel in University Housing and Student Affairs, by providing adequate interior and exterior lighting, and by fostering an awareness among members of the University community about safety and security matters and the need for timely reporting to the proper authorities of criminal or suspicious activities.

Security procedures used in the maintenance of campus facilities involve coordination between Security Services, Residential Life and Institutional Services. Residence Life Staff and Security Personnel will complete work orders for repairs as problems are discovered or reported to them. Unless an emergency exists, all repairs in residential areas will occur between 10:00 am and 10:00 pm. Any repairs made at other times will have University Personnel present. Off campus maintenance personnel are not allowed access to residential halls without permission from the Facilities Manager (or other designee).

Reporting of Crime and University Response

To help provide a secure and safe environment, all members of the university and visitors are expected, requested and encouraged to report any criminal activity or emergency that they observe. Reporting may be accomplished by contacting Security Services directly or requesting assistance from a university office in contacting Security Services to report a crime or emergency. Security Services may be contacted directly from any campus phone by either pressing the button marked "SECURITY" on a room or office phone or by dialing 6400 from a courtesy phone. Anonymous reports may also be made through the Security website: www.tiu.edu/security. In the event of a fire emergency any fire alarm pull station may be tripped in the building. Security Services is hardwired into each alarm system and is automatically notified of the activation of the alarm. Deerfield Dispatch is hardwired in each alarm system as well and the Fire Department is immediately notified. In the event of a life or death emergency individuals are encouraged to contact 911 directly by dialing 9-911 from any campus phone. Security is immediately notified of any 911 calls made through the campus phone system and the number and location of origin.

Security still request that another individual notify Security at 6400 of the situation to ensure a quick response. Security Personnel are available 24 hours a day by stopping at the Security Gate Office. If Security personnel are out of the office they may be reached immediately by lifting the receiver of the phone located next to the office door.

Security Services will respond as quickly as possible to every report of a crime or emergency. Response time may be affected by the number and location of available personnel and involvement at the time a report is received, with other incidents which must be judged by the Shift Supervisor to be of greater or lesser importance. Action on a report may also involve response by personnel: from Health Services or external ambulance in cases possibly requiring medical treatment; from the Counseling Center in cases possibly involving sexual assault or psychological issues; from Student Affairs in cases involving violations of University regulations and policies; or from outside police or other agencies when necessary.

Security Officers are trained to observe and report. Upon receipt of a call, officers are dispatched to the site of the report to discern the problem and render assistance. A written report is made of each incident and, if needed, follow-up is conducted. Student Affairs staff work closely with Security officers in responding to serious incidents and police are notified when warranted or someone involved wishes to file a police report. Incident reports are filed by Security Services and Student Affairs.

In the event of extreme emergencies, e.g. fire, murder, bomb threat, etc., the university safety committee (the safety committee is composed of faculty, staff and student representatives who will regularly meet to review and deal with safety issues on campus from different perspectives.) has developed an emergency manual. Copies of this manual are available for review in every office on campus. The safety committee has also developed an Emergency Response Plan, with the assistants of Bannockburn Police Department, Deerfield-Bannockburn Fire Department and outside consultants. This plan establishes a clear chain of command, as well as the necessary resources and responses to emergencies at all levels.

Security Services encourages accurate and prompt reporting of all crimes to Security Services, Student Affairs and the Bannockburn Police Department. Currently no procedures are in place to report crimes on a voluntary, confidential basis for the inclusion in the annual disclosure of crime statistics. No procedures are in place to encourage pastoral and professional counselors to inform clients they are counseling of any procedures to report crimes on a voluntary, confidential basis for inclusion in the report.

Timely Warnings

In an effort to keep the community informed Security Services will issue "timely warning" bulletins. A warning will be issued when the occurrence of a crime(s) listed in the annual Security Report or any crime(s) considered represents a threat to students or employees. This warning may include campus e-mails, broadcast voice mail, postings in residential halls, and/or a mailbox stuffing. (It should be noted, timely warning bulletins are not required with respect of crimes reported to a pastoral or professional counselor.)

Sexual Assault Policy

Sexual assault is a crime of violence that can happen to anyone. It does not discriminate by age, sex, or race. A rapist is not necessarily a stranger. Many sexual assaults are planned.

What to Do if Sexually Assaulted

- Go to a safe place.
- Call a support person—a trusted friend or family member. Don't try to go through this alone. Do not blame yourself. Contact a member of the Emergency Response Team if desired. (Response Team List is available from Security Services and Student Development.)
- Contact Trinity Security Services (x6400), the Lake County Rape Crisis Hotline (847.872.7799) or the Bannockburn Police (847.945.2151).
- Do not change clothes, shower, bathe, or douche even though it is natural to feel a strong need to do so. If there has been oral penetration, do not brush your teeth, smoke, chew gum, or eat anything. It is crucial that valuable evidence is not destroyed in case you decide to press charges.
- If there are severe injuries, go to the hospital immediately. Trinity Security Services and the Emergency Response Team will assist in any way possible to get you to the hospital and to inform the proper law enforcement agencies. 911 may also be contacted for transport to Highland Park Hospital in Highland Park.

Why Go For Help?

Because there may be internal injuries, there needs to be a physical examination. There is also a need to discuss the risks of sexually transmitted diseases and pregnancy. Finally, the assault needs to be legally documented and evidence collected.

The initial impulse may be to try to forget the incident. There may be no desire to ever go to court. Even so, it is best to have evidence collected in case the decision is reconsider later.

The exam should be done no more than 72 hours after the assault. However, the sooner the exam is done, the better. Even if more than 72 hours have elapsed, a physical exam is still strongly recommended.

What to Expect at the Police Investigation

In order to investigate the crime, a police detective will question the victim, collect evidence from the crime scene, receive evidence obtained from the physical exam, and take a formal statement.

Questioning will usually focus on the events prior to the initial contact with the assailant, a detailed account of the behavior and words used by the victim or assailant, circumstances of the assault, and a description of the assailant. They may also ask about the victim's last occasion of consensual sex. Questioning is done in a nonjudgmental manner.

If You Choose Not to File a Police Report

The victim is strongly encouraged to file a police report, but the choice is theirs. If the choice is not to file a report, there are still resources available and precautions that ought to take. The victim may speak with a member of the Trinity Emergency Response Team for support and answers to questions. A call may also be placed to the Lake County Rape Crisis Hotline (847.872.7799).

A physical exam is still needed to check for internal injuries, for STDs, and pregnancy. For a minimal fee, medical professional at Trinity Health Services (ext. 6699) may be seen. A physical exam may also be obtained at Condell Medical Center in Buffalo Grove (847.362.2900). If transportation or fees are a problem, contact a member of the Emergency Response Team.

Prosecution-Bringing Criminal Charges

A victim has the option of bringing criminal and/or university charges or neither against his or her assailant.

In terms of criminal charges, sexual assault is a crime that is prosecuted by the state. The Dean of Students can assist you in contacting the proper officials to arrange for legal representation.

Bringing University Charges

Sexual assault is defined as a physical act of aggression by a stranger or acquaintance that can range from the unwanted touching of another's intimate parts to rape. It is prohibited conduct at all times in all places and under all circumstances for students of Trinity International University.

The student considering formal charges against another student may talk initially to the Dean of Students, their Residence Director, or any Counselor in the Counseling Center (ext. 8114), to learn about procedures and options.

The victim is entitled to be accompanied by a current member of the Trinity community—student, faculty, staff member, or administrator—who can provide emotional support during initial disciplinary hearings.

Procedures for campus disciplinary action in cases of an alleged sex offense

- accuser and accused are entitled to the same opportunities, to have others present during the disciplinary proceeding
- both accuser and the accused will be informed of the outcome of any institutional disciplinary proceeding brought about from an alleged sex offense. (This does not constitute a violation of FERPA.)

For the purpose of this act, the outcome of a disciplinary proceeding means only the institution's final determination with respect to the alleged sex offense and any sanction that is imposed against the accused.

- imposed sanctions ranging from a warning to permanent separation from the university following a final determination of an institutional disciplinary proceeding regarding rape, acquaintance rape, or other forcible or non-forcible sex offenses.

The University's Commitment

In cases of sexual assault, a victim may fear being blamed for the occurrence. He or she may also fear the thought of public scandal or casual dismissal of the complaint. This is not the case.

Trinity's commitment is to:

- not prejudge or blame
- meet privately with the victim, at a place of their choice, to take a complaint report
- not release the victim's name to the public or press
- treat the victim with sensitivity, dignity, understanding, and professionalism
- take the case seriously, regardless of your sex or the sex of the suspect
- do the best to accommodate a request to speak with a female or male staff member
- assist in arranging for hospital treatment or other medical needs and in contacting counseling and safety resources
- investigate the case fully and help to achieve the best outcome, which may involve the arrest and prosecution of the suspect
- keep the victim informed on the progress of the investigation or prosecution
- Assist the victim in changing their academic and living situation upon request, if the change is reasonably available.
- be available to answer questions, explain legal procedures, or just listen
- pray for the victim and for a positive result to this difficult situation

Seeking Professional Counseling

Each victim has his/her own timetable for recovery. Some are ready for counseling immediately; others are not. Being heard by someone who is objective, supportive, and non-judgmental is crucial in the healing process and can provide a vital source of support. Counseling services are provided through the university's counseling center (ext. 8114).

In considering counseling, the victim should realize that they are not alone, and have nothing to feel guilty or ashamed about.

Telling Family and Significant Others

When considering whether to tell family and others who are close, anticipating their possible reactions is helpful. Review past and current relationships and history of support. Responses may vary widely from support and understanding to rejection and accusation. These responses may come from the same person over a period of time.

If family or significant others are not told, the victim may experience feelings of isolation and guilt over keeping this a secret. Family may find out from another source at a later date. It is also important to note that not sharing may be denying a major source of support. On the other hand, if there is reason to think that a friend or family member might react in a hurtful, non-supportive way, it may be in the victims best interests to not share information about the assault.

Your family, friends, roommates, or other significant people may have a difficult time understanding your feelings. They may suggest that you speak with a counselor. They themselves may consider speaking with a counselor on how to understand and assist you or obtain support for their own feelings. The counseling center can provide you with a list of resources to aid you in dealing with this trauma.

Sexual Assault Prevention Programs

Counseling services for sexual assault are available through the Counseling Center. Along with individual counseling, in cooperation with the Dean of Student's office and Health Services, the center will schedule forums to address issues that they believe would be pertinent to the student body at large.

Trinity also offers the Basic Personal Defense course form RAD systems on a regular basis and at request based on the level of demand. This is a Women's Self Defense course sponsored by the Security Services Department and the University Safety Committee.

Registered Sex Offenders

Information concerning registered sex offenders living, working or attending school in the village of Bannockburn may be obtained from the Bannockburn Police Department. Bannockburn Police Department is located at 2275 Telegraph Road, Bannockburn, IL 60015. Their phone number is 847 945-8490.

Security Awareness and Crime Prevention Programs

TIU is strongly committed to crime prevention, law enforcement and crime reporting. University campuses, like all other communities however, are not immune to crime. Students, faculty and staff are urged to take advantage of safety programs, to take all reasonable precautions for their own safety and to report all crimes.

The department will also work with members of the community to design specific programs on crime prevention to cover topics not listed above.

Possession, Use and Sale of Alcoholic Beverage and Controlled Substances

All Trinity students are expected to maintain standards of conduct that exclude the possession, use and distribution of alcohol, tobacco and non-prescription drugs both on and off campus. (Graduate level students are viewed as having a level of life experience and maturity with which to make sound decisions concerning the use of Alcohol and tobacco. It is therefor the decision of the University that graduate level students are solely restricted from the use of alcohol and tobacco on campus.) Alcohol and drug consumption cause a number of changes in behavior, ranging from impaired judgement and coordination to a diminished ability to learn and use higher mental functions. Repeated use can lead to dependance and long-term use will cause permanent damage to the brain, liver and other vital organs, and may lead to death.

TIU will fully support enforcement of local, state and federal law against those who willfully possess, use or distribute illicit drugs or alcohol on campus. Any student found to be using drugs or who is in a room where illicit drug use is occurring is subject to immediate dismissal by the institution's student hearing committee. The university also reserves the right to require a student to submit to a full drug test if there is reasonable suspicion (as deemed by the Student Affairs Department) that the student may be involved in some form of substance abuse. Refusal, by the student, to submit to the test may result in dismissal from the university.

Drug and Alcohol Prevention Programs

Counseling services for drugs and alcohol are available through the university's Counseling Center. Along with individual counseling, in cooperation with the Dean of Student's office, the center will schedule forums to address issues that they believe would be pertinent to the student body at large. Information regarding on-campus substance abuse counseling service and rehabilitation programs can be obtained at the Counseling Center or at Health Services.

Monitoring Off Campus Criminal Activity

Security Services monitors criminal activity occurring at off-campus locations with the assistance of the Bannockburn Police Department and other pertinent Law Enforcement agencies. Should an incident occur off campus involving members of the TIU Community at a "university" sponsored event, the members of the community could face both external charges and judicial sanction(s) through the university's disciplinary system.

Preparation of the Annual Disclosure of Crime Statistics

The Director of Security Services takes several steps to ensure required statistics are compiled correctly. Throughout the year, on a regular basis, Security Services and Student Affairs meet to disclose incidents occurring on campus. Statistics required for the Act are compiled during these meetings. Statistic reports filed with Security Services and reports or referrals made by Student Affairs are reviewed and verified. At the end of the year, the Director of Security Services sends a Crime Statistic Report Form to other campus officials (President, Vice Presidents, Directors, Deans, Coaches and Faculty Advisors) requesting information on any crime statistics reported to them during the year. These statistics are then compiled. A Crime Statistics report is also sent to the Bannockburn Police Department. They then process a list of incidents reported to them as required by the Act. Every effort is made to insure statistics are not "double reported". Finally, statistics are compiled into the Annual Security report.

To ensure timely warnings and accuracy, all criminal offenses required by the Act should be reported immediately to the following departments: Security Services, Student Affairs and/or the Bannockburn Police Department. Currently no policies or procedures are in effect at TIU allowing victims or witnesses to report crimes on a volunteer confidential basis for the annual disclosure of crime statistics.

Programs to Inform Students and Employees about Security Procedures and Practices

When a new employee is hired, Human Resources provides and discusses the annual disclosure form detailing information as required by the Act. Additional information regarding campus security procedures, practices and crime prevention programs are available in the disclosure form. All employees are encouraged to participate in programs offered by Security Services and the Safety Committee. These programs are offered upon demand.

Security Services (during fall orientation) discusses campus security procedures, practices and crime prevention programs with incoming students. The annual disclosure form is reviewed and students are encouraged to participate in safety programs offered by Security Services, Student Affairs and the safety committee. Current students are reminded throughout the year regarding these programs.

Just as employees are informed, students are continually reminded they must be responsible for their own security and the security of others. This message is reinforced through programs offered by the department, the annual disclosure form and in the "timely warnings" distributed to the Campus Community.

*-It is noted that the majority of these thefts included situations of individuals leaving doors unlocked and items unsecured. The numbers may also appear higher as a result of a more accurate understanding of crime classification.

 -This was filed as a motor vehicle theft, though later located moved elsewhere as a prank.

-Though the individual was under the influence on campus, it is uncertain whether the actual drinking occurred on campus.

*-Individual accused of coercing cooperation from others with threat of gun. No gun seen on campus. Individual was a state licensed gun owner.
