* PT 5090 Field Education. Specific subjects noted below or as arranged with the Director of Field Education. Contact the Field Education Office, or review the online materials for current descriptions of these areas. Course begins with a one-hour required orientation offered the first week of classes and at other times during the semester (contact the Field Education Office for details). Course registration confirmed after the orientation session is completed. Repeatable as needed in the program. Subject sections include: academic teaching, adult education, campus ministry, chaplaincy, children and youth ministries, church planting, compassion and justice ministries, counseling ministries, discipleship, educational ministries, evangelism, leadership and administration, media, music and worship, pastoral ministries, urban ministries, and women's ministries.

 GR 121E Elementary Greek is a course offered at the undergraduate level through the College -- EXCEL program. This course will run through a traditional semester length. All TEDS students who desire to take this course will register separately through the EXCEL records office. Please note that all interested TEDS students will take the class under the audit classification, which means that no credit will be assigned and the charges per credit hour will be substantially less.
